Stephen Tanzer's International Wine Cellar, May 12

Good deep ruby. Crushed rock, licorice, menthol and violet on the strongly mineral nose. Supple, sweet, juicy and fine-grained, with lovely inner-mouth perfume to the dark berry, mineral and bitter chocolate flavors.

Finishes firmly tannic, precise and very long. These wines typically have levels of volatile acidity in the 0.7 to 0.8 grams-per-liter range, which lifts their aromas and gives them considerable early sexy appeal even when they appear to have the sheer concentration and tannic support for 10 to 15 years of positive evolution in bottle.
